INTRODUCTION

The 2010-11 Live in HD season commences in New Zealand cinemas from November 2010 and screens concurrently with the New York Met Opera 2010-11 Season. Featuring 12 transmissions starring many of the world's greatest singers in brand new roles, the Peabody and Emmy Award-winning series is fast becoming one of the most anticipated events of the year.

'The show is shot with a dozen cameras, some of which move, and the changes in perspective provide new dimensions to a stage picture usually seen from a single vantage point...Seeing the production in a high definition transmission was a different, though equally compelling experience.' Wall Street Journal

All operas are subtitled in English. Casting is subject to change due to unforeseen circumstances.

Two unparalleled artists join forces to create a groundbreaking new Ring for the Met: Maestro James Levine and director Robert Lepage. The cycle launches with Das Rheingold, the prologue to Wagner's epic drama. "The Ring is not just a story or a series of operas, it's a cosmos," says Lepage, who brings cutting-edge technology and his own visionary imagination to the world's greatest theatrical journey. Bryn Terfel sings the leading role of Wotan for the first time with the company, heading an extraordinary cast.

BORIS GODUNOV

Expected Running Time: 5hrs 30mins

René Pape takes on one of the greatest bass roles in a production by Stephen Wadsworth. Valery Gergiev conducts Mussorgsky's epic spectacle that captures the suffering and ambition of a nation. "There are two protagonists in Boris—the title character and the people he rules," Wadsworth says. "Through Boris we see the private mind of a flawed leader, and through the chorus we see the volatility of a people skeptical about their leaders. Boris seems to me a good person who made a terrible mistake and ultimately cannot live with it. He yearns for his lost innocence." Aleksandrs Antonenko, Vladimir Ognovenko, and Ekaterina Semenchuk lead the huge cast.

Director Nicholas Hytner makes his Met debut with this new production of Verdi's profound, beautiful, and most ambitious opera. Roberto Alagna leads the cast, and Ferruccio Furlanetto, Marina Poplavskaya, Anna Smirnova, and Simon Keenlyside also star. Yannick Nézet-Séguin, back after his triumphant debut leading Carmen, conducts. "I think Don Carlo is the quintessential Verdi opera," Hytner says. "Right through this opera there is, on the one hand, an implacable expression of impending doom and, on the other hand, a succession of the most gloriously open-throated arias, the most fantastically determined music."

In February 1972, Nixon traveled to China for talks with Chinese leaders Chairman Mao Tse-tung and Premier Chau En-lai. Nixon's trip was the first high-level contact between the United States and the People's Republic of China in more than twenty years, and it ushered in a new era of relations between Washington and Beijing. Peter Sellars makes his Met debut directing. The composer will be on the podium to conduct. James Maddalena, who sang the role of Richard Nixon at the world premiere, brings his acclaimed interpretation to the Met.

LE COMTE ORY

Expected Running Time: 3hrs 25mins

Rossini's vocally dazzling comedy stars bel canto sensation Juan Diego Flórez in the title role of this Met premiere production. He vies with mezzo-soprano Joyce DiDonato, in the trouser role of Isolier, for the love of the lonely Countess Adèle, sung by soprano Diana Damrau. Bartlett Sher, director of the Met's hit productions of The Barber of Seville and The Tales of Hoffmann, describes the world of the opera as, "a place where love is dangerous. People get hurt. That can be very funny and very painful. Rossini captures both—with the most beautiful love music Rossini ever wrote."

PARTICIPATING CINEMAS & TICKETS

The popularity of the productions in the last season has resulted in cinema audiences demanding yet another series. Nearly thirty cinemas nationwide in New Zealand have committed to screening the new series. From Keri Keri in the north to Dunedin in the south, from New Plymouth, Westport and Hokitika in the west to Gisborne in the very east!

Tickets for the 2010-11 series are on sale now, and bookings are highly recommended to avoid disappointment.

Note that ticket prices have increased slightly to $28 for seniors & children and $33 for adults due to rising costs. This is the fourth season in NZ, and this is the first time that they have been increased during this period.

Don't miss your chance to experience the Met live at your local cinema!
